SEELA AC

Antti Kotilainen | 2018, 2022, 2026 | Outdoor

The SEELA seating family by Antti Kotilainen grows and adds two new proposals in 2025, both suitable for indoor use and the contract and residential markets: a SOFT variant with an upholstered cushion applied to the inner shell and a version with an inner shell covering in black leather. The new proposals join the existing ones, characterized by very light bases on which rests a sinuous polypropylene shell, which in turn continues into the seat without interruptions, accommodating a rounded insert in wood, polypropylene or fabric. Also available in the fully upholstered variant, even more comfortable and elegant, it allows you to play with colors, having fun combining a shell in one color and the seat interior in another.

Extra comfort, new uses. SEELA by Antti Kotilainen becomes an armchair.

The SEELA collection of chairs by Antti Kotilainen is growing and is now complemented with a new addition: a brand-new tub version, created to meet the contract and residential markets even more promptly. A sinuous polypropylene shell rests on an extremely light base, which, in turn, seamlessly continues into the seat, accommodating a rounded polypropylene insert. Versatility is the key word to describe a chair with light, clear-cut lines that is extremely functional and has a solid structure, which changes according to the project requirements. It is ideal around a meeting table, as a guest chair and armchair in the coffee bars of companies or professional studios, and the version on castors is particularly suitable for co-working environments.
