BRUNCH

Romano Marcato | 2012

Two worlds, two 'times' meet as the brunch tradition dictates. On the one hand the wooden top that curves down to the ground and gently changes thickness, on the other the rigour of the metal support, also available in powder coated black or white. Of great originality in the play of asymmetries, this modular table is freely composed, crossing heights and opening in the directions of a star and a wave. BRUNCH, versatile and available in an electrified version, is ideal as a cafeteria counter, a high table for the office or as a workstation in public spaces.
